Conclusion

Reaching C1 means you can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognize implicit meaning. You can summarize information from different spoken and written sources, reconstructing arguments and accounts in a coherent presentation. C1 (Effective Operational Proficiency) and C2 (Mastery) represent the highest levels of language competence. The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) categorizes language proficiency into six levels, from A1 (Beginner) to C2 (Mastery). You can use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic, and professional purposes. At this level, you understand with ease virtually everything heard or read. C2 (Mastery), on the other hand, signifies near-native fluency. You can express yourself fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions. You can express yourself spontaneously, very fluently, and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in more complex situations. 80c5979239
